Assembly was nothing I expected it to be. I was told this was a business meeting. I've been in many business meetings in my profession. Believe me, attending this Assembly was nothing like what I considered to be a business meeting. I am not sure if it's because I am a newbie or because we were entertained by the US Marines/Recruiters on our first night of meeting. Time flew by fast. This Assembly was a learning experience and a big eye opener. I had no clue of the dedicated trusted servants willing to give their time and talents to make this Assembly a success. The networking is incredible. The location was exceptional except for feeling like I was in Antarctica. I look forward to the Fall Assembly and being part of Panel 58.

My first meeting was intimidating. Someone took me to the meeting, and when we walked into the room, there were five people older than Moses who stopped talking and just stared us down. I did not get a warm, fuzzy feeling at all. Fortunately, the person who took me said this was not a typical Al-Anon meeting, and that I really ought to try a different meeting. I am so glad I did! Although I don't live in that area anymore, I do hope to return to that 1st meeting sometime. That icy reception led me to be more sensitive to every person that enters a meeting, trying to see the group through that person's eyes. I know now that the first meeting wasn't typical. I also believe this: if my friend didn't tell me to try a different meeting, I wouldn't be where I am now.

My First Meeting

I was mad, sick, tired and angry. When I walked in everyone was happy and talking. My thought—they sure don't have the same problems as me.

What did I hear? —"Keep coming back!" and I did. I heard, "take the cotton out of your ears and stuff it in your mouth." I was looking for that recipe card to get loved ones to stop drinking—HA HA. But I did get recipe card for me "to find recovery":

1. Go to meetings
2. Get a sponsor
3. Work the steps
4. Read CAL
5. Do service

I found peace and serenity and still am coming back!

My First Assembly—Feelings

As we did a traditional roll-call of members present at the assembly, I had a visual of each voting member representing their home group and all the Al-Anon members and families they represent. I had an awareness of the vastness of our Al-Anon family, and all the family members that brought us here, as well as the positive influence we have on our families and community. It is wonderful to be a part of the greater Al-Anon Community.

Bye-Bye Fear

Fear has taken from me so many things. Fear has taken my courage to move forward in life. Fear has taken my faith to allow things to happens as they should. Fear comes in various forms: when I'm angry, its fear; when I worry its fear; when I procrastinate it's fear; low self esteem is fear. Without fear in my life I won't get angry. I wont worry. I wont procrastinate. I'll regain my self esteem. I'll regain my courage. Ill have the faith to allow things to happen as my Higher Powers wants them to. Bye-Bye Fear! Thank you Al-Anon for the gifts I received.

My First Meeting

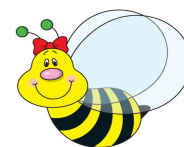

There were few people in the meeting. The chairperson asked me to read the welcome (or something). I started crying two sentences in. He adjusted and took it back from me. Someone handed me tissues. I don't remember much else except the closing. "We already love you....." That was all it took. I kept coming back!

My first meeting was February 25, 2008. I cried snot tears the entire meeting. I couldn't even speak, I was crying so hard; nor, did I want to. Being ACOA, I seldom showed my feelings in public and, many times, in private also, never mind in front of my two neighbors that had made arrangements to meet me there when they were informed of my family's crisis the night before.

A decade later, I am healthier than ever. Our daughter is in her second year of a possible doctorate in forensics and my spouse has been in recovery almost three years. I am living proof; it works, if you work it.

My sponsor ALWAYS says...

Those golden words of wisdom, which at times, you may think your sponsor actually has on a tape recorder.

- ◆ Remember you have to write—the papers supports everything !
- ◆ So, you haven't risen above the human condition?
- ◆ “Boundaries are for you, not someone else.”
- ◆ “Sometimes you have to sit in the pain for awhile.”
- ◆ “ You are not responsible for”
- ◆ Progress Not Perfection
- ◆ “Take care of yourself.”
- ◆ Listen and Learn
- ◆ Get involved in service.
- ◆ Stop taking things personally
- ◆ Keep grieving and crying.
- ◆ Live and Let Live
- ◆ You’ve done all you can—let God do the rest. “You’re powerless over People, Places and Things.”
- ◆ Live for today. Yesterday is gone. Tomorrow isn’t here.
- ◆ “How Important is it?”
- ◆ “Participation is the key to harmony!”

My First

Home Sweet Home Group

On July 4, 2018, I attended the International Al-Anon Convention in Baltimore, MD. Besides having a wonderful travel buddy and roommate from my Home Group, there were so many great workshops and lectures to attend, it was hard for me to decide where to go. It was fabulous!

I vaguely remembered agreeing to speak at a meeting, but no one ever asked me prior to the Convention. However, when I registered, I was informed that I would be a speaker, but they did not know where or when yet. I found out the night before that I was to share on "Home Sweet Home Group." Dumbfounded, I asked what on earth I could share. They replied just to "tell my story." I did and it touched hearts that day.

Since I couldn't remember what I had shared to be able to write this article, I listened to the CD today. Basically, I recounted early dysfunction and neglect in my life due to alcoholism in my home, along with other shameful things done to me. Also, I told how my life was a series of bad choices with horrible consequences.

Two-and-a-half years ago, I walked into Al-Anon. A friend took me. She never came back and I never left! All this time I rarely missed a Monday meeting time unless I was traveling. Although I attend two or three other meetings a week, Hope, Grace and Serenity on Monday nights is my Home Group. I have a family there; a family of choice. They love me as I am and encourage me to keep growing. A sponsor is there when I need her to get me over the rough places along my path. Being involved in service has given me confidence I didn't know I had. My Higher Power, whom I call God, has gently healed me. Thank you Al-Anon!
